Tur. Gratiti de of a Dog.-A valuable, wellelphia Press, was locked up in the countingcouse at the coal-oil fire on Dickinson street wharf on Sunday afternoon. The sea of roaring flames had extended all over the area occupied by the oil. The counting-house, a frame ouliding at the northwest corner, soon ignited from the excessive heat. The roof and the two ides nearest the confiagratian of the oll ignited, and the dog howled piteously, as though fully aware of the impending danger. The members of the Shiffler Hore Company, having secured a plng near the counting-house, were ready to put the water on. A member forced the door open, and the dog, already subjected to a heat f several hundred degrees, sprang into the open air. Having regained his liberty, he exibited his gratitude by licking the hands of his esener, and, fondly innning around him. vinced various signs of joy. The dog was an enthe stranger to the fireman, and under other circumstances would have made an attack upon him. The animal seemed desirous to stay by him, and not permit any person to approach him. GEN. BEAUEFGARD, GEN. JOEDAN, AND THE Harvers,—The New Orleans Picanne says:

Gen. Jordan's article in Harper's Magazine. On the subject of the late Confederate Administration, has provoked a good deal of criticism on the part of a large number of persons who think that it was, at least, extremely untimed and nugenerous. Gen. Beauregard's name has been connected, as if he had been in some manner responsible for Gen. Jordan's opinions and the manner and time for expressing them Nothing could be more erroneous. On the contrary, Gen. Beauregard, on reading the proofsheet of the article (which had been sent him) immediately wrote to Gen, Jordan in order to cisenade him from making it public, at least at this time; and fearing that his letter might not reach its destination in time, he wrote to the Harpers, requesting them to defer the publication of the article until they could hear from Gen. Jordan. In reply to that the editor of Heiper's Magazine addressed to Gen Beauregard a rete of which the following is a copy: RPERS .- The New Orleans Picanne says:

Following the example so successfully set during our war, the Paragnayans had constructed batteries along the Paran river to prevent the return of the fleet. In running past these batteries, the fleet suffered much damage. Further battes of an equally important character were dully expected.

Architects,

The utterances of a Governor elected under these unique conditions upon his luauguration in the platform on which President Johnwill naturally be read with more than ordinary interest, and we reproduce, consequently, the and, since his accession to the Presidency, following from our dispatches:

Governor Humphreys in his inaugural says:
I have always believed that no one or more State could constitutionally every ties that unite people of the several States in one. The people rejected this school of politicians. Those advocating the right of secession could not have found a better mode of solving the question than the arbitrament of war. The question was forthwith referred and decided against us.
The people of Mississippi acknowledge the decision and express their wish to reterm to the Union. It has been offically reported that our people are not sincure, but if unfinching fidelity in war gives evidence of reliable fidelity in peace of the unvarying protessions that apring from private, public scurces famish evidence of its truth.
It is comeastrated that the people of the Sun in may be safely trusted, when they profess more than willingness to return to their allegiance.
The State of Mississippi has already, by har own colemn act, abolished slavery, and it is do to her honor to show by her future that she has done so in good faith, and that slavery shall herer again flourish in our border in whatso ever name or guive it may be brought forward.

This shows that Mr. Humphreys was an orderinal Union wan an optioner of secession.

This shows that Mr. Humphreys was an and a lite-long disbeliever in the doctrine. He declares, also, that the people of Mississippi are "more than willing to return to their alse-gianor," that they have accepted the free basis good faith, and that slavery shall never again flourish in the State, under "whatever ame or guise it may be brought forward. That, we submit, is frank, outspoken, and to the point. There is neither equivocation nor any glittering generalities" npon the subject. It is not the language which men use when they do ot wish to commit themselves. It breathes a spirit of candor and of downright carnestness. has the ring of true Union metal. It sounds houest. There is no secession, covert or open. n it; no reaction in it; no punic faith in it; no keeping the promise to the ear but breaking it to the hope in it. The first utterances of the first Governor elect under the new order of things augur well for the repose of the country and the complete encess of the conciliatory policy of the National Government. We half them, therefore, with unfeigned satisfaction. They will give the radicals cold comfort, for the radicals are straining their eyes and distending their ears for evidences of continual disloyalty and a reactionary spirit in the South, and are hope they will be disappointed, and we helieve old line Whig. like Sharkey, and an ardent eap. but certainly not in this. How any American lie his old faith. The people of Misselssippi, it appears, knew for whom they voted, and have not cast their suffrages for one who had originally any hand in bringing war aron them, or whose opinions are in antagoniem to the acts of the convention either in regard to slevery or secussion-the two points in

The work of harmonizing the country goes

There is a good deal of discussion now in regard not only to negro suffrage but negro slim ny. We are against the former, so far at least as our own State is concerned, but see no especial reason for objecting to the latter. We think that courts of justice should open a very wide door for the admission of testimony seems to us that they can do so safely, for the credibleness of witnesses, as well as the statemen s they make, must a ways be a matter for jules to decide on in view of all the circumtances of the case

Of course the object of courts and invies is or should be simply to arrive at the truth. Now if a man cutside of the courts wishes to learn, the negro is acq sinted with them, he will as a mat zer of course interrogate the negro and hear what he has to say. No man doubts that he Can trust himself to hear a negro's testimony and at en judge of it in view of the fact that the testifier as a pegro and all other facts presented. And we see no reason why courte and juries should not listen to negro testimony and trust themselve and be trusted by the law in like manner, for they have full right to take the color and char acter of all witnesses into consideration. If as individuals, when we want to get at the truth, we always question everybody that we suppose knows anything about the facts and then com gere the characters of those whom we have nestioned and compare their statements, thus seeking to arrive at the right conclusion, why should not courte do the same thing?

It isn't any mere negro right that is involved in this matter. White men have very often suffered great injustice by the exclusion of negro testimony when regroes were the only person case. A court and jury that can't be properly trocted to hear and properly weigh a negro's testimony are not fit to be a court and jury.

An Eastern paper says that Kentucky and New Jereey "fitly excite the ridicule when they do not arouse the scorn of all true patrio's throughout the country." The editor who epesks thus of Kentucky deserves to be made to evaliow the contents of his ink-bottle, to have his eard in his kidneys, and to be bored through the tongue with his own pen. There is not a loyal State upon the continent that has made such terrible sacrifices for the Union as Kentucky. Though her institutions were identical with those of the South, though nearly all of her business relations were with the South, though her warmest sympathies before the war were with the South, and though thousands of her chivalric and misguided young men plunged themselves into the rebellion and fought for the South, she not only kept her lovalty but gave to the Federal armies as many mer in proportion to her numbers as any other State in the Union. There's true sublimity in get one. the spectacle she has presented to the nation and the world. It has no parallel in the country. Perhaps it never had a parallel in any President John on is taking the right course to overcome whatever spirit of rebellion now remains in the South. It was not the pelting storm but the warm sun that caused the traveler to take off his cost. And the warmth of kindness and favor will, if anyth g can, make all of our old friends in the South cast solde the garments of their disloyalty.

The Hon. A H. Stephens has gone to his home in Georgia, and will make speeches for the Union. When he was speaking for the Union in 1861, Mr. Toombs threatened to make the State too hot to hold him. Does Toomba think that he can make the State as hot as a eteamboat furnace now? If he does, let him last, a large meeting of cit zens of favette county was held at Lexi gion to express their istaction at the removal of martial law from Kentucky. Among the replu tions is the following admirable one:

Lesslevel. That we cordially approve the policy of President Johnson in regard to the restoration of the Southern States to their constitutional relation to the Union, as indicated by his acts and expressed in his addresses to the delegates of the Southern Sales, and we pidedged him the united support of Kontucky in carrying that policy into complete effect. We are glad to reproduce the foregoing reso

Now that the President has reposed the highest trust in the loyalty of the people of Kentucky, by declaring martial law at an end in their State, it behooves them to show that they merit such confidence by aiding in carrying out the National programme. They made a very had record on the constitutional Amendment question, and have since developed their characteristic stubbornness in opposing many measures of sound public policy.

We don't understand what "measures sound public policy" the Chronicle refers to baving been opposed by Kentneky since the rejection of the Constitutional Amendment.

"What is a dollar?" We can inform it Before the accession to power of the party represented by the Tribune, a dollar was a small gold or large filter coin, worth 100 couper or nickel cents. Since the party represented by the Tribune has been in power, a dollar is a green pice of paper worth anywhere from 30 to 60 cents.—Chicago Times.

A paper has no right to slander our currency to give a duli point to a paragraph. If the Chicago Times does not not know that a dollar of the Federal currency is worth more than "from 30 to 60" cents in gold, it isn't fit to be Capt. ( C. Dauly, for many years editor of the Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette, died in that city on the 3d inst. We knew Capt. Dauly familiarly. He was crippled terribly in the Mexican war, and we have learned that he was crippled still more terribly by an accident since we saw him. His once manly form became the wreck of a wreck, but his heart was ever calm and gerial and brave and high. As an editor he made a strong impression upon the political character of his State.

There is three times as much editorial talat and typographical excellence in the papers of the South now as there was before the reb. lion. Whether they have passed into new and abier hands, or whether the mighty events of the war have deepened and strengthened and intensified men's souls in the great section that has experienced each dreadful sufferings, we do not know.

The readers of the Journal will recollect that this crime was committed at the corner of Third and Main streets, in this city, on the night of April 14-the memorable ocan acceptin. King was sentenced to be hang shortly after his perpetration of the foul deed, but the execution was postponed as often as three times. We believe his sentence was lastly commuted to this day, Friday, October 20th. Instead of paving the penalty awarded by a jury of his neers, he is permitted to live and go torth into the world with the seal of legal innocence upon his brow. Time alone the two days' performances of the U.S. Circus. will decide the effect of this clemency upon

We shall endeavor to give in to-morrow's Journal a faithful account of the awful scene. General the supposition is that it was the work of an Palmer was yesterday waited upon by a delegation of the prisoper's lady friends and relatives. Their object was to plead for Magruder's life. We did not learn the result of the interview.

The General Court-martial assembled at the usual hour vesterday morning, but adfor the want of witnesses in the cases set for trial. A great deal of trouble has been experienced in procuring the witnesses called to testify for and against the guerrillas now under ictment. Many of those summoned to apar have eluded the search of the sharpest and it is found impossible to serve subjectes upon others. The citizens of the State fear molectation at the hands of frienda of these guerrillas, should they take part in their prosecution.

MUMICIPAL AFFAIRS -There was a regular The time of the Lower Board was exhausted raise the grade of Brook street. The high grade was adopted.

An ordinance that had passed the Common Council anthorizing the issue of one hundred thousand dollars in bonds for the repair of streets was passed by the Board of Aldermen. As the two boards did not agree in the adoption of an adjourning resolution, there will be another meeting this evening.

RELLASED FROM CONFINEMENT -Theodon

der, a citizen, confined in the Military Prison in this city on the charge of being a guerrilla, was yesterday released from confinement, the charge not having been sustained. The follow-ing-named men were also released by order of Major-General Palmer: Moses Talbott, a citizen; James Larkin, 32d Missonri, sent to the at-General of Missouri; Burr King, 43d Ohio, sent to Adjutant-General of the State of Obio; James Raglan, 4th United States veteran volunteers, forwarded to his command.

THIEVERY ABOUNDS.-Regardless of the stern examples made of some of the thieves hereabouts, the "profession" flourishes. Deputy Marshal Akers yesterday arrested one George Fetz on the charge of stealing nineteen dollars. John Shafer stole a sum of money from John Wall, who lives at the corner of Hancock and Clay streets. He was arrested by Officers Sinknorn and Ryan. WASHINGTON, October 19.

All statements that the Treasury Department has been or is paying money to various States on account of expenditures for war purposes during the war, are entirely untrue. The accounts of the various States are passing through the Auditor's and Comptrolier's offices, but no payments of any kind are being made to any State. It is therefore very desirable that banks and all persons dealing in these securities should keep record of each separate transaction in them, stating the name of the persons or firm or institution of whom they were prochased or to whem they were sold.

One man, named Hale, sectived five stabs and a shot was knecked down and severely injured a man dly stabbed, and several others more or less jured. None of the injured are dead, but all re in a critical condition. The quarrel was not political one, but resulted from an old family ritige.

A novel claim was settled by the War De srtment on Mend y. In 1803, Gen. Granger rdered all women of il-iame to leave Nash ille. One hundred and seventy-three were laced in charge of an cilleer, with orders to eave the cargo at Lou.sville or Cincinnati. The therities refused to sllow them to land, and the chiefr was kept on the river about a month, at an expense of about $6 000, the Government celining to furnish provisions. This claim ha u:t been erdered paid.

The following resolutions were reported:

Resided, That it is respectfully suggested to the Convention that a canon is greatly desired, which must enable any Presbyters of this Church, in untulers not less than six, and being in sevial charge of as many congregations in

SINGULAR CHAIN OF CRIME AND ITS PUNES

or - A boy, eixteen years of age, named obert Devlir, was brought into the Police unit yesterday, on a charge of robbing Mar-elly, proprietiess of a house of questionable efficie on Clark street, of the sum of $1.50. It is alleged that the crime was committed, some ime since, by Devlin and two companions, nen named Barney McGee and — Wilson, who knocked the woman down in the hallway of her own house and plundered her. With who knocked the woman down in the hillway of her own house and plundered her. With the money the adventurous trio escaped to Milwarkee. There McGee robbed Devlin of $55 of his shaie, and for that infraction of the law of "honor among thieves," was sentenced to two years' confinement in the Wisconsin penituniary. In a drunken debanch, Wilson shot and kilked an entire stranger who declined dilnking with him, and is now in jall at Milwarkee, awsitting his trial for minder. The police here, learning of the whoreabonts of the culpit, telegraphed to have the hot Devlin arrested, and this was done by the Milwarkee anthotities. The SHENT CONFLICTS OF LIFE.—A triumph in the field is a theme for poetry, for painting, for history, enlogistic and aggrandizing agencies whose united tribute constitutes lame, but there are victories won by nien over themselves more are victories won by nien over themselves more triply honorable to the conqueror than any that ate victories won by nien over themselves more truly honorable to the conqueror than any that can be schieved in war. These silent successes we may never hear of. The battles in which they are obtained are fought in solitude, and without help, eave from above. The condict is sometimes waged in the still watches of the night, and the struggle is often fearful. Honor to every conqueror in such warfare! Honor to the man who fights temptation, hatred, reverge, envy, selfishness, back to its covert in the heart, and then expels it forever. Although no outward show of honor accrues to the victors of these good lights, they have their reward—a higher one than tame can bestow.

COLORED CITEZENSHIP IN THE PISTRICT - AN mportant suffrage association has been organ-zed in Washington, with S. J. Bowen, City Postmaster, as President, and Lewis Clephane, ternal Revenue Collector, as Vice-President The object of the organization is to remove the ast vestige of slavery from this portion of the national domain. Six thousand of the colored men in this District have signed their names to a petition, which will be presented to Congress next winter, asking to be invested with the ights of American citizenship. An Indian was recently caught in a bear rap, and instantly killed, at Big Meadows, Alpine county, California. He had seen the trap baited with mutton and concluded to steal it. The fall of this trap was made of heavy timber armed with large spikes, which entered the Indian's body.
